Dear [Redacted]

Just a quick note to let you know that I received your resume and SF-71 and will send them to those offices that might have positions relevant to your experience. Unfortunately, these things usually take a while, so I probably will not be able to get back to you very soon. In the event something does surface, I will certainly let you know as soon as possible. You should certainly continue pursuing other avenues you might be able to think of in the meantime.

I realize things are very difficult in the job market these days and certainly wish you good luck.

Sincerely,

[Redacted]
